
बेटी मनोई और उन जादा-ए-। "BAARI MANOON EE AND UN JADAA UN". (Barbie Manoe and her Butterfly Friends)

Howdy! Barbie here. As you might have guessed, my friends and I are really into butterflies. My favorite variety of butterfly is the swallowtail, because they're so big and colorful! But of course, there's a lot more to butterflies than just their size and color... You see, butterflies are related to moths. And in my country, the United States, people think that moths are ugly creatures. I don't think moths are ugly at all! In fact, if it weren't for the moths who live in the forest near my house, I wouldn't get to see a lot of butterflies at all. In this story you get to travel with me and my friends into the forest near my house and learn about a few of its amazing residents...

...Like the beautiful swallowtail butterfly! My favorite kind of butterfly is a swallowtail because they're so big and colorful! I'm going to take a closer look at one. Ooh, its fur looks really soft!

But it's still nice and warm out here! It looks like that swallowtail is ready for a long day of flying around the forest!

These days it seems like more people are interested in butterflies than ever before. I think it's awesome! But one thing people have to remember is that butterflies are living creatures. When you pick them up, they can't fly away on their own. And when you catch them with sticky stuff on your hands, they can't get off unless you help them first. So I hope you'll remember to be extra careful when you're looking at butterflies...

You see that? I thought that butterfly looked really happy!

Even though it's starting to get dark, the swallowtail is still having fun flying around in the forest.

But our friends are getting hungry. We need to find some food for them. Come with me and I'll show you where some tasty treats are hiding...

Wow! I thought there were no bugs around here, but look what I found! It looks like some kind of flower...

It's a flower with nectar on it. That must be how butterflies get their energy when they're flying around in the forest all day long.

If you'd like to see more beautiful butterflies, I'd love for you to come to my butterfly house. It's at the end of my driveway, right next to my house. On rainy days I keep it open so that the butterflies can get inside and dry off. Once in a while I'll let some little kids visit too.

Oh yeah. Here are some of the countries where Barbie has met her friends on this trip...

...When they need help getting out of danger! And so far no one has ever helped me!

Thanks for reading this story about my friends and me! If you want to learn, read on...
